A work may be completed ahead of schedule or delayed due to unforeseen fortuitous circumstances, extra effort or developments beyond the control of CIL/Subsidiary or the tenderer and it is sometimes difficult to apportion credit or responsibility. The contractor may experience delay or disruption due to his own actions or inaction, those of his sub-contractor or other contractors, those of CIL/Subsidiary or the engineer, or other causes. Such delays expose the non-performing party to various sanctions under the contract. These sanctions include extension of time, damages or default termination of the contract. While examining the request of the contractor for extension of time, the engineer shall consider all circumstances and categorise the delays as follows:

- a) Excusabledelays-ForceMajeure(FM),thatis,actsofGod,abnormalweather,floods,andsoon, applies;
- b) Compensabledelays-orCompensationEvents, which putfull burden of responsibility on CIL/Subsidiary; and

- c) Inexcusabledelay(contractor'sownfaults), which puts the full burden of responsibility on the contractor.
- d) Concurrent delays when two or more events responsible for delay overlap each other. The delays maybe attributable to CIL/Subsidiary or the contractor or none, and fall in above categories. The eligibility for extension of time (EOT) should be determined by plotting each contributing concurrent delay on the critical path. CIL/Subsidiary should see that the concurrent delays do not result in unnecessary extra extension of time.
- C. Once the delay is categorised, it should then be determined not only whether the contractor is eligible fortime extension but also whether sanctions, such as Liquidated Damage (LD) or default termination, can be imposed on the contractor.
- D. The time for completion of the work will be specified in the contract and it is understood that the completion of work within the time specified is an essential part of this contract. While ascertaining the reasons for delay beyond the control of the control of contractor, the following delays shall be considered as "Hinderance":
 - a. Excusabledelays
 - b. Compensabledelays
 - $c.\ Portion of Concurrent delays to be decided judiciously by the EIC.$
- E. More precisely, if any delay in the completion of the work is likely to be caused by any of the following reasons, then the contractor immediately upon the occurrence of such delay shall give notice in writing to the Engineer-in-Charge and he shall be allowed a reasonable extension of time for completion in respect of delay caused by any of the below-mentioned circumstances

GeneralPrinciplesforGrantingExtensionofTime

- i) AtthetimeofissuingnoticeinvitingtendersforaparticularworktheEngineer-in-Chargeshouldspecifythetime allowed for completion of the work consistent with the magnitude and urgency of the work.
- ii) Thetimeallowedforcarryingouttheworkasenteredinthecontractshallbestrictlyobservedbythecontractorand shall be reckoned from the Date of Commencement of the work as given to the contractor.
- iii) Theworkshallthroughoutthestipulated period of the contract beproceeded with all due diligence (time being deemed to be the essence of the contract) on the part of the contractor.
- iv) To ensure good progress of work during the execution, the contractor shall meticulously follow the preset time and progress chart and in the event of slippages in one segment, all efforts will be made to liquidate the slippages in the next stages.
- v) If the contractor shall desire an extension of time for completion of work on the grounds of his having been unavoidably hindered in its execution or on any other grounds as mentioned above shall make application to Engineer-In-Charge for extensionofcontractwithin a reasonable periodprior toexpiryofContractPeriod (Preferably not later than 15daysprior to expiry of Contract Period). Engineer-In-Charge shall process the proposal based on the merit of the case for obtaining approval of Competent Authority. Such extension shall be communicated to the contractor in writing by the company through Engineer-in-Charge before the expiry of Contract Period.

 - c) Such application must be made within a reasonable period prior to expiry of Contract Period (Preferably not later than 15 days prior to expiry of Contract Period).
 - d) The Engineer-in-Charge must be of the opinion that the grounds shown for the extension of time are reasonable.

Vii)Deleted

viii) The opinion of the Engineer-in-Charge, whether the grounds shown for the extension of time are or not reasonable, is final. If the Engineer-in-Charge isof the opinion that the grounds shown bythe contractorare not reasonable and declinestoprocesstheextensionoftime, the contractor may approach concerned SO(E&M)/GM(E&M)/Director (Asthecase may be) whose opinion shall be final and binding on all concerned.

ix) All interimextensions of time shallbegranted by Tender Accepting Authority limited to GM(E&M)/HoD forHQworks and Area GM for area works and all final extension of time shall be granted by Tender Accepting Authority limited to Chairman/CMD of CIL/ Subsidiary.

Effortshouldbemadetocompletetheworkwithintheoriginalcontractperiodorextendedperiod.

- x) In case the contractor does not apply for grant of extension of time before the expiry of contract period and the department wants the contractor to continue with the work beyond the stipulated date of completion, the Engineer-in-Charge can process proposal for extension of time even in the absence of application from the contractor as per the following guidelines:
 - a) WheneveranyhindrancecomestothenoticeofthelnChargeofthework,heshouldatoncemakeanoteofsuch hindrance in the register kept at site. Heshould also make areport toEIC of the occurrence of such hindrance.
 - b) The proposal for extension of time should be processed EIC for obtaining the approval of Competent Authority (RefCl (ix) above. This should be processed preferably 15 days prior to the expiryof Contract Period.
 - c) If the orders of the higher authority are not received in time, he should extend the contract before the stipulated date actually expires so that the contract might remain in force but while communicating this extension of time, he must informthe contractor that this was withoutprejudice to Company's rightto levy compensation under relevant clause of the agreement. Such extension of time given by EIC shall be considered as fait-accompli in future.
- xi) The period during which the contract remains valid is a matter of agreement and if the period originally set for the completion of the workcomestoan end nothing short of agreement of the party can extend the subsistence and validity of the contract.
- xii) When the period fixed for the completion of the contract is about to expire, the question of extension of the contract may be considered at the instance of the contractor or the Department or of both.

The extension, in order to be binding, will have to be by parties' agreement, express or implied.

Ittherefore, follows that if the extension of time is accepted by the contractor, either expressly or implied by his actions before and subsequent to the date of completion, the extension of time granted by the Engineer-in- Charge is valid.

xiii) It is, therefore, necessary that the Engineer-in-Charge grants extension of time as per provisions of the contract even whenthecontractordoesnotapplyforextensionoftimeinordertokeepthecontractalive. If the contractor refuses to act upon the extension so granted by Engineer-in-Charge, it will attract the provisions of appropriate clauses of the agreement.

The contractors hall however use his best efforts to preventor make good the delay by putting his endeavors constantly as may be reasonably required of him to the satisfaction of the Engineer-in-Charge.
